

Computer Science is one of the most important subjects of the modern era, providing an understanding of programming, data, and systems. To make exam preparation easier for students, the Punjab Board has released the 11th Class Computer Science Pairing Scheme 2025.

| Part                | Type of Questions | Chapters / Content Included                                                                                                                      | Marks / Questions |
|---------------------|-------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Part A              | MCQs              | 10 to 12 MCQs will be selected from all chapters.                                                                                                | 12 Marks          |
| Part B (Section I)  | Short Questions   | Attempt 6 questions from Chapters 1, 2, and 3.                                                                                                   | 12 Marks          |
| Part B (Section II) | Short Questions   | Attempt 6 questions from Chapters 4, 5, and 6.                                                                                                   | 12 Marks          |
| Part C              | Long Questions    | Each long question includes two chapters:Q5 → Chapter 1 + 3Q6 → Chapter 2 + 5Q7 → Chapter 4 + 6Attempt any 2 out of 3 questions. | 16 Marks          |
| —                   | Total Marks       | —                                                                                                                                                | 50 Marks          |